At Fredrick Douglass High School in Baltimore, MD, the expectations raised by NCLB have reached a critical point. This documentary offers a yearlong look inside a storied institution at a time when its very existence is in doubt. From cautionary profiles to triumphant tales, Hard Times at Douglass High serves as a reminder that education is inevitably an achievement of people, not policy.

Join in on the discussion on how to tackle the achievement gap from professionals currently working to solve the problem.

Refreshments will be provided.
