How to talk to YOUR Representatives about Comprehensive Sex Education

The most important thing that you need to know about Congress is that they work for you. It’s their job to represent your best interests in Washington, DC. So why do they keep spending money on things like abstinence-only programs instead of things that matter to young people, like comprehensive sex education? This spring, our members of Congress are returning to their home districts to meet with constituents and get our feedback on the work they’re doing in Washington, DC - and Choice USA members will be ready to advocate for OUR issues!

Join our e-training to learn how to organize an effective advocacy meeting with an elected official. We’ll talk about how to plan your meeting, how to facilitate and how to ask for what you want!
